INTERVIEW

WITH

DINESH JAIRAM

GLOBAL TALENT ACQUISITION MANAGER

Seaspan is the worldwide leader in independent containership management and ownership. It is truly a global company, employing 4800+ people through subsidiaries and offices in Hong Kong SAR China, Canada, and India, and on board of 127 owned and managed vessels.

Compared to the traditional recruiting procedure in maritime, what is disruptive about TURTLE and why did you decide to collaborate with the digital marketplace?

The whole concept of recruiting globally is a great idea especially when its free for the skilled seafarers. This presents sometimes an opportunity of a life time for some of the seafarers as they can have a conversation with a company and express their desire to join and be evaluated online without visiting a company office all from the comfort of their home.

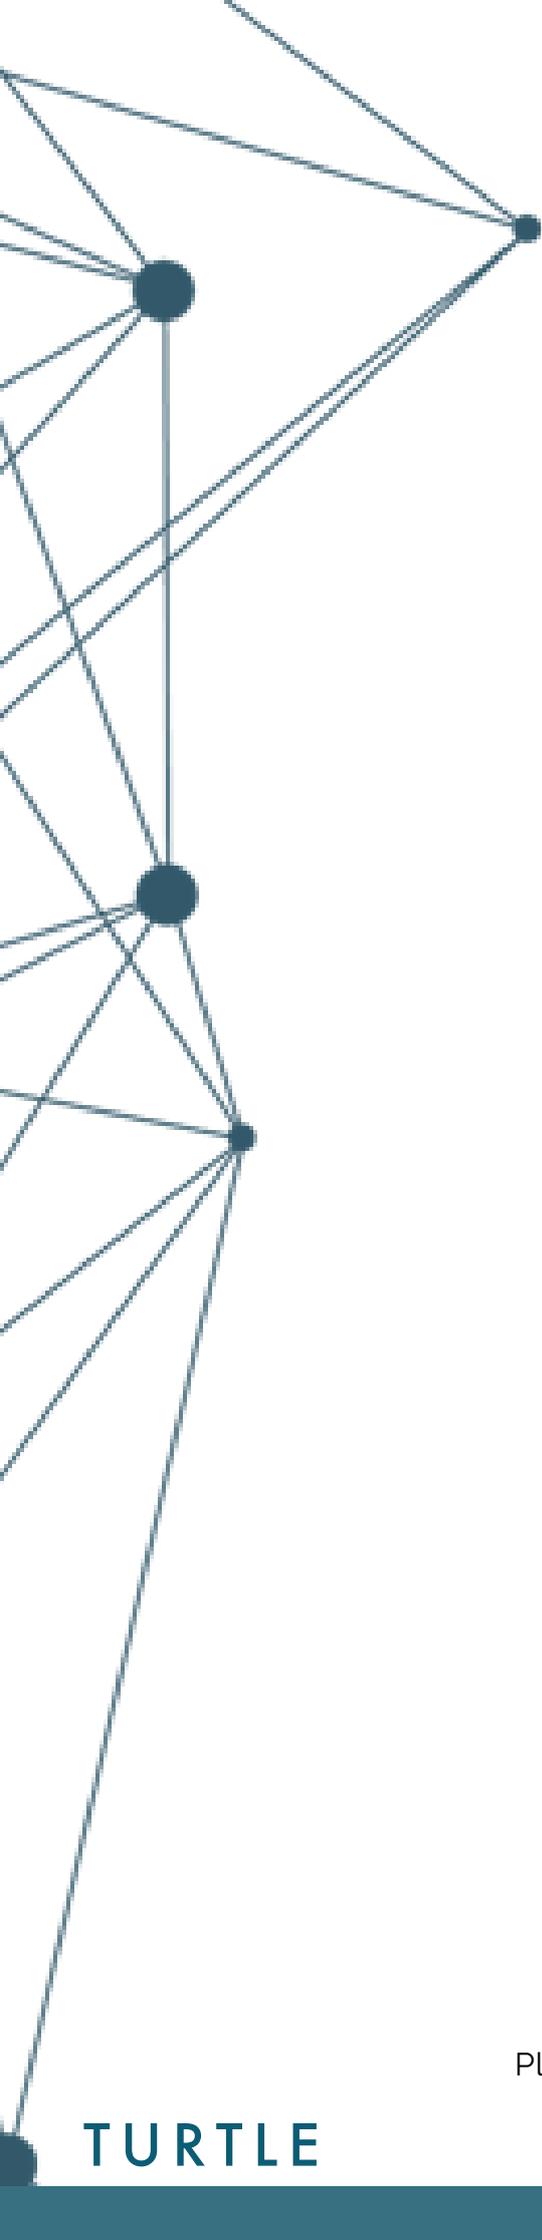

What is your personal “pain reliever” working with TURTLE, how do they make your life easier?

Turtle is able to provide the ranks that we request, especially with this Ukraine crisis any additional help for recruitment is welcome.

What makes collaboration with TURTLE special?

The people we interact with at Turtle and their positive attitude. The close follow-up with candidates at hiring and a transparent relationship.

TURTLE

TURTLE advocates for a fair and self-determined recruiting process for seafarers. To what extent do you share this goal?

As a company we hold fair practices and ethics as the cornerstone to our business, we see the same values with the people at Turtle and have built a fair and transparent working relationship.

TURTLE (and Seaspan) in 2027: What could be a headline in the newspapers?

Definitely even stronger as time passes each day, hopefully, a lot of our recruitment would come this way and as things are streamlined we could further improve our process flows and building even stronger bonds and look at new areas of recruitment of seafarers together.
